

Naval Hospital Bremerton/Navy Medicine Readiness Training Command Bremerton 2025 Year in Review

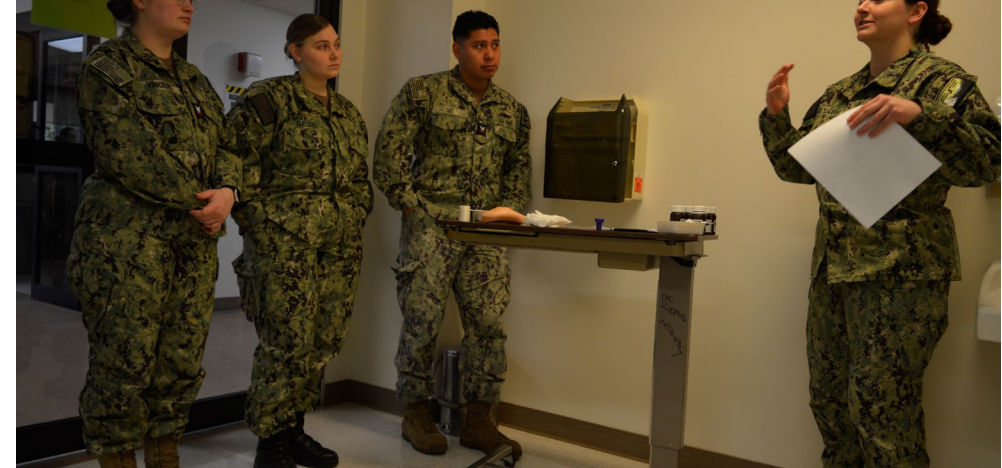

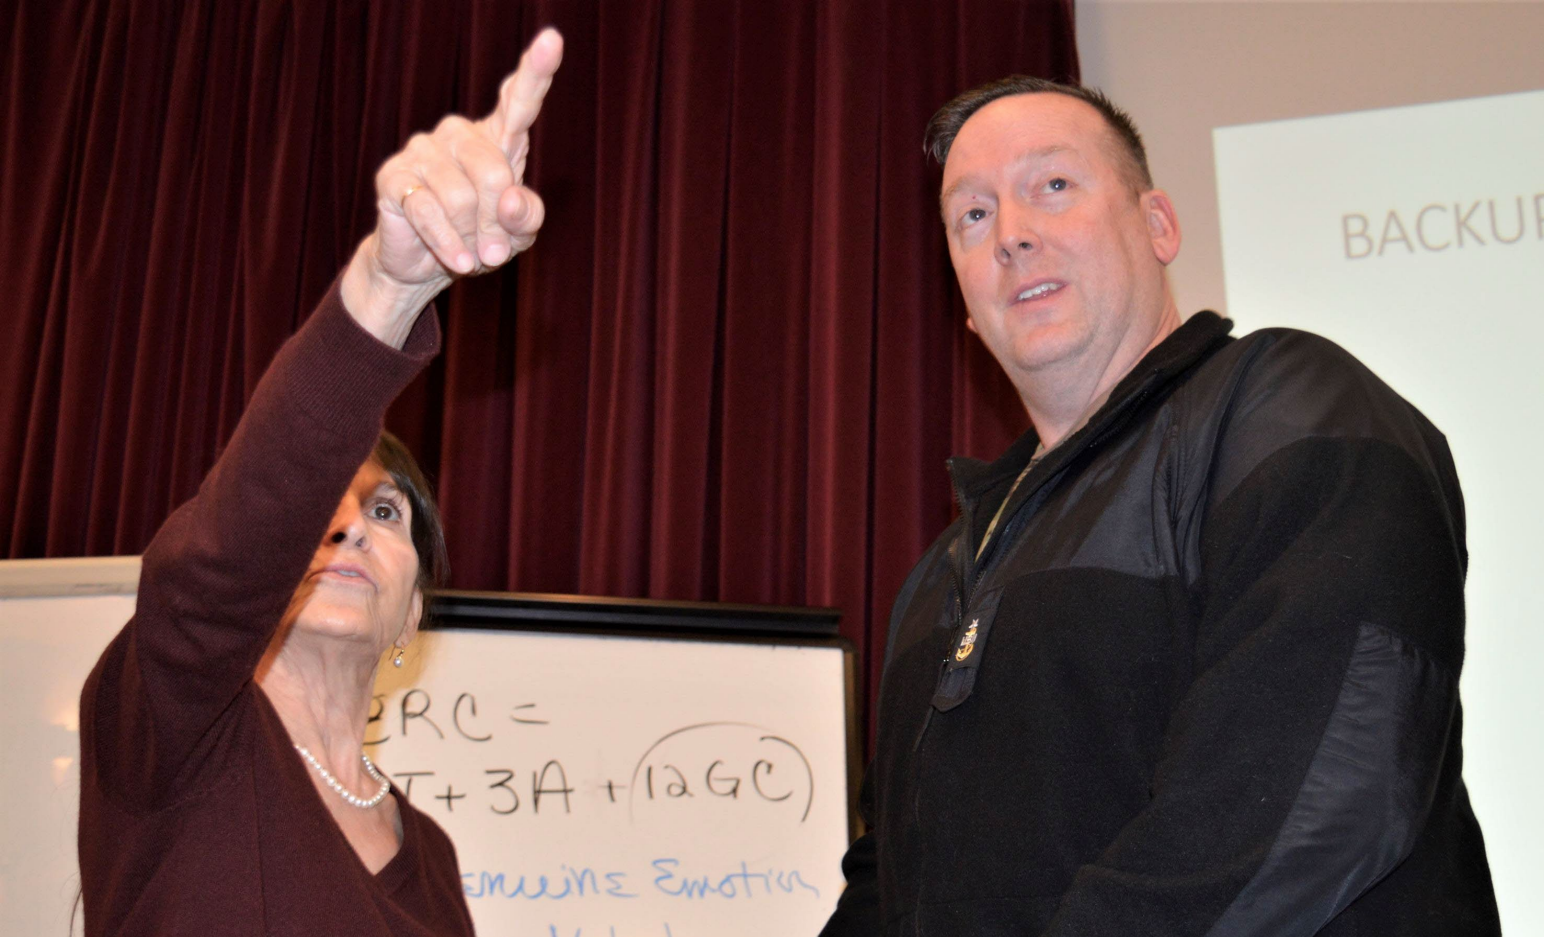

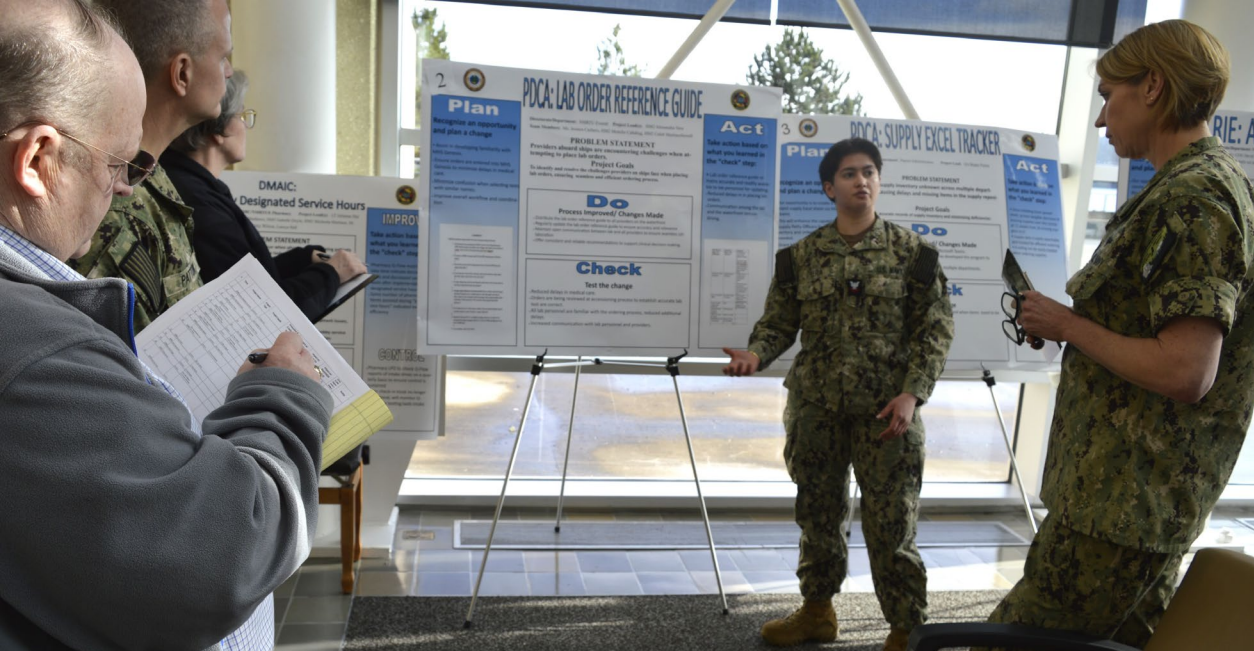

From evidenced based practice to corpsmen assistance with Internal Med patients to retirement formalities and legging out the new year in readiness miles [with smiles], NHB/NMRTC Bremerton staff were engaged...

Name(s): 1st Lt. Hitehawk, 1st Lt. Walker, 1st Lt. O'Neil, 1st Lt. Smith Site(s): NH
 Problem/Population Intervention Comparison
 P. In Active Duty Nurses at Navy
 I. how does Virtual reality
 C. compare to current practice
 O. affectability to meet NCCF
 T. within 3 Months 3) and
 TrnServiceNurse.org

Critical multidisciplinary skill sustainment training and Risk Communication skills were pointedly provided for staff in February, along with additional team building reminders ...

March featured a special corpsmen – canine [Tactical Combat Casualty Care] connection, Continuous Process Improvement Fair submissions, recognizing Dental Assistant Week and more

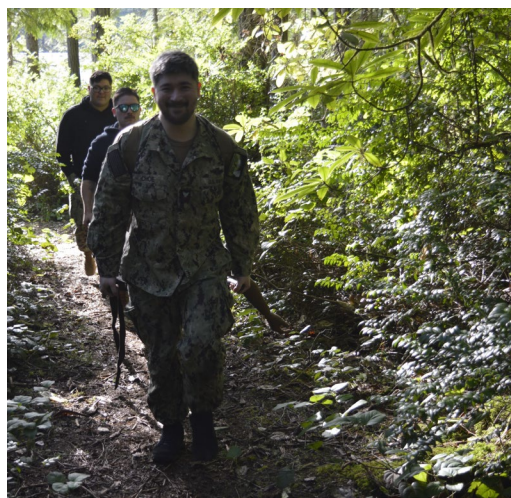

April included Occupational Therapist Month recognition by testing the mental and physical dexterity of staff and Tactical Combat Casualty Care – an operational necessity for all corpsmen – continued to provide specifically designed challenges and conditions from the field of battle to hone skills in handling traumatic injuries...11 training courses produced 180 graduates.

U.S.
Navy
Chief
Petty
Officer

April 1
1893-
2025

132
Years
Honor,
Legacy
Duty

May featured the Navy Nurse Corps 117th birthday, hosting a successful Joint Commission accreditation survey, bidding "Fair Winds and Following Seas" to the outgoing director for Administration, Capt. Maria Edusada, and recognizing May as Mental Health Awareness Month with a special visit from Madigan Army Medical Center's Major Earl, a 5-year old black lab trained to work in a hospital setting to help patients – as well as staff – handle stress and other mental health challenges...

Honors were rendered and the past remembered at NMRTC Bremerton 127th Hospital Corps Ball, an evening which also reflected on the present and prepared for the future for the Navy's only enlisted corps...

NHB welcomed onboard Dr. Stephen Ferrara, Acting Assistant Secretary of Defense for Health Affairs...

Pharmacy Techs continued to set the fulfilling standard of providing timely support to those in need...

August drilled into Navy Dental Corps' 113 years of oral health history, as well as announcing five Navy chief petty officer selectees and Health Promotion and Wellness recognized for command excellence for supporting operational readiness with a host of continual awareness activities and educational events. The command picnic was also a slam-dunk...

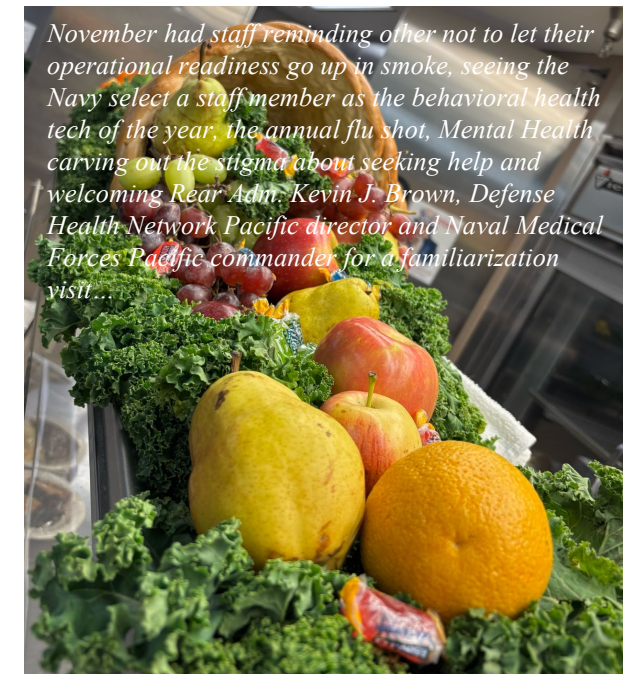

Spreading their wings...newly frocked Chief Hospital Corpsmen Jessiechristian Aldy, Lee D. Halls, Robert O'Bryant, Miles A. Steele, and Chief Logistics Specialist Steven Gardiner joined the ranks of the U.S. Navy chief petty officer...

November had staff reminding other not to let their operational readiness go up in smoke, seeing the Navy select a staff member as the behavioral health tech of the year, the annual flu shot, Mental Health carving out the stigma about seeking help and welcoming Rear Adm. Kevin J. Brown, Defense Health Network Pacific director and Naval Medical Forces Pacific commander for a familiarization visit....

Seasonal safety was stressed, Pastoral Care held Christmas Communion, Battle Ready Tuesday Training included hands-on suture training, and the Terrace Dining Facility staff were augmented by leadership in providing a holiday meal ...

